DIAMOND SPECTACLES.
TRADE MARK
These Spectacles are manufactured from "MINUTE CRYSTAL PEBBLES" melted together, and are called DIAMOND on account of their hardness and brilliancy. It is well known that spectacles cut from Brazilian or Scotch pebbles are very injurious to the eye, because of their polarizing light. Having been tested with the polariscope, the diamond lenses have been found to admit fifteen per cent. less heated rays than any other pebble. They are ground with great scientific accuracy, are free from chromatic aberrations, and produce a brightness and distinctness of vision not before attained in spectacles.
Manufactured by The Spencer Optical Manufacturing Company, New York. For sale by responsible agents in every city in the Union. R. A. HEATH, & CO., Jewelers and Opticians, are Sole Agents for Newport, R. I. From whom they can only be obtained. No peddlers employed. Do not buy any unless [illegible]

A LOST ART.

Revival of the Art of Lace-making—A New York Importer's Story.

It is well known among ladies who are connoisseurs in lace that the manufacture of old Point de Venise has been among the lost arts for upward of a century. Whenever one of our American princesses on her round of morning shopping asks for Point de Venise, the salesman who is well informed in laces knows at once that his customer is not. If he is sharp, shrewd, and unscrupulous, he practices a deception by showing the lady some other lace; if he is honest he tells her the truth. A representative of the Sun, while looking for items for a trade report a few days ago, gathered the following facts from a lace importer and head of the lace department in a wholesale dry goods house, whose cash receipts from sales amount to over $60,000,000 annually.

About five years before the fall of Paris and banishment of Napoleon III. the Empress Eugenie discovered one day, among a lot of old laces which had been transferred to her as souvenirs of the Empress Josephine, and which her daughter Queen Hortense, had religiously preserved as relics of her illustrious mother, about a quarter of a yard of a lace flounce of a most singular and beautiful mesh and peculiar design. The ex-Empress is a dilettante and connoisseur in laces as well as in many other fine arts. She saw at a glance that she possessed an art treasure, the more valuable as it was yellow with age, broken and mutilated. She sent at once for M. De Lisle, the President of the Compagnie des Indes, lace manufacturers of Paris, and spreading her treasure before his admiring eyes said:

"Monsieur, I wish this lace reproduced, mesh and design, in full lace dress for myself. Can your lace makers do it?"

Bowing low before the beautiful woman, the manufacturer replied:

"Your Royal Highness gives me a difficult commission, one, I fear, impossible to perform. Your remnant is real old Point de Venise, of which there are but few samples in existence, and the art of making it is lost."

"Can we not revive it?" asked the Empress. "I give you carte blanche in making the experiment, and another carte blanche for my dress when finished."

"Madame, I will see what can be done. If possible it shall be accomplished," and bowing again he retired from the royal presence, taking with him the old piece of Point de Venise.

When an empress commands everybody hastens to obey. So the President of the Compagnie des Indes lost no time. He first submitted the sample of Queen Hortense's relic to his own adult, experienced lace makers. None knew the mesh. He placed it under powerful lenses—no better success. Its intricacy baffled them all.—No instrument, however fine, nor fingers the most skilled, under eyes the most practiced, could tell how it could be reproduced.

Our manufacturer was perplexed, but not in despair. His next step was to ransack the whole empire for the oldest lace makers living. About forty old women, sexagenarians and octogenarians, were taken to Paris. They were provided with the best of glasses and most powerful hand lenses. One after the other examined the old flounce. Alas! not one knew the mesh.—M. De Lisle was almost desperate. He had tried adult ingenuity and the experience of age, now he must resort to youth. He selected from his young girls twenty of the most intelligent workers—those with the strongest eyes and deftest fingers. To each he gave a section of the old sample.—He provided them with lenses and every appliance for work.

In the meantime they were secluded and given every necessary comfort, so that their eyes, their fingers and their minds might be in perfect working order. He watched the work from day to day and week to week; still no progress seemed to be made. At length he left the house one evening almost persuaded to give up the experiment. This was about one year after the imperial order had been given. The next day he was late in reaching his office, but as soon as he arrived the superintendent of the lace workers met him with the long wished for, welcome, but almost incredible, intelligence that one of the young girls had discovered the old Point de Venise mesh. The President hurried to the room where the successful young worker was bending over her lace cushion. He seized a lens, examined the work in her hands, compared it with the original, and a quiet smile stole over his features.

"Eh Bein!" he exclaimed softly, "It est acheve!"

Turning to the successful discoverer, he rewarded her with the place of teacher to the others and general superintendent of the work, and communicated with the Empress, who, among all her engagements, had kept diligent watch of the progress of affairs.

Now the work was begun in earnest. It was four years before it approached completion, but from time to time the Empress visited the manufactory, showing the greatest joy and pride that a lost art had been restored by the lace weavers of France in her reign. Before the dress was finished Paris was in ashes and Eugenie an exile. But the lace weavers escaped the general destruction, and Eugenie's dress was spared. The generous woman did not forget M. DeLisle nor her order. She wrote from England, saying "though no longer an Empress nor enjoying the income of royalty she would take the dress when finished, if he should be loser by keeping it." The manufacturer, not to be outdone in nobility and generosity, laid the case as stated in the Empress' letter before the directors of the company. They were touched with the misfortunes and genuine nobility of the beautiful woman, and unanimously decided to release her from her engagement. This now historic dress is to be exhibited at the Vienna Exposition as the first specimen of Point de Venise manufactured in more than a hundred years.—N. Y. Sun.

Our townsman, Dr. Humphreys who has just lectured in Boston seems to be a very alliterative gentleman, *ell*iterative, in fact. He lately lectured in Boston on the life and lessons of the late Lord Lytton. We would recommend him for a situation on the Chicago Times. It is doubtful if he could even build a house without putting an L onto it.

There is some discussion going on in educational and journalistic circles as to whether or not a pretty girl can learn Greek. A gentleman of many years experience in teaching says that he never knew of such a case, and doesn't believe it possible. We can only say for ourselves that we have pleasant recollections, and an excellent photographic likeness of a lady who has forgotten more Greek since New Year's than that old curmudgeon ever knew, and she is young, pretty and entertaining. Three years ago this young lady addressed the American Philological Society at Poughkeepsie, and yet she can entertain you all day without your suspecting that she ever heard of Athens. And furthermore, she can play a first rate game of croquet, (we are better judges of her croquet than of her Greek,) and row a boat a dozen miles at a stretch without any particular fatigue.

Nothing would induce us to reveal her post office address, but her father, who knows even more Greek than she does, was once a professor in Brown University.

That experienced teacher is an idiot,

It will be remembered that during the Dennehey trial much stress was laid on the fact that the prisoner had in his possession, and claimed as his own, a white handled knife which certain witnesses identified as the property of the murdered man. Messrs. Perce and Hallett, counsel for the defence, have published a card stating that they have just learned that one of the undertaker's assistants took Favor's white handled knife from his pocket and gave it to some member of Favor's family. If this is so it throws a doubt upon the whole trial, and is one more proof of the insufficiency of circumstantial evidence. If Favor's friends knew this fact and concealed it, they are guilty of a most brutal and inhuman act. But is it not strange, that all the questioning and cross questioning failed to elicit it from the witness? It seems as if there was scarcely a point in the whole matter that demanded such close investigation as the condition of Favor's body when found, and the articles that were taken from it. If Dennehey's counsel could not pump a witness better than that, then he was unfortunate in being entrusted to their professional skill.

INDIAN POLICIES.

Secretary Delano has made us all his debtors by explaining in a few words what the president's peace policy is. The public is perfectly excusable, if it has obtained as yet but a vague idea of what this policy is.

The secretary explains that the "Peace policy proposes to place the Indians upon reservations as rapidly as possible, where they can be provided for in such manner as the dictates of humanity and Christian civilization require.

"On these reservations they are to be taught as fast as possible, arts of agriculture and such pursuits as are incident to civilization, through the aid of the Christian organizations of the country now engaged in this work, acting in harmony with the Federal Government.

"Whenever it shall be found that any tribe or band of Indians persistently refuse to go upon a reservation, and determine to continue their nomadic habits, accompanied with depredations and outrages upon our frontier settlements, then it is the policy of the President to treat such band or tribe with all needed severity, to punish them for their outrages according to their merits, and thus to teach them that it is better to follow the advice of the Government and go upon reservations and become civilized, rather than to continue their native habits and practices.

"It is the determination of this policy to see that all supplies of every kind and nature, whether of food or clothing, purchased for such Indians as are upon reservations and remain at peace, are procured at fair and reasonable prices, so that the Indians meriting these supplies may receive the same without having the funds of the government squandered in their purchase.

"It is the purpose of the peace policy to establish schools, and through the instrumentality of the Christian organizations, acting in harmony with the Government, as fast as possible to build churches and organize Sabbath schools, whereby these savages may be taught a better way of life than they have heretofore pursued, and be made to understand the comforts and benefits of a Christian civilization, and thus be prepared ultimately to become citizens of this great nation."

This is an excellent policy, and as a theory can not be improved on. But it has not been a success. The opposition party charges the fault on the administration, and all the agents of the administration charge it onto the Indian trader.

The government can not escape its responsibility. It has the power and the means to protect the Indian from these land sharks, and it is responsible for the consequences of its neglect. The government is placed in a trying situation, it is true. On the one side are the Indians, on the other the settlers. No sooner do the latter want a piece of land than they take it and invoke the aid of the national government to keep the Indians off. The savages are immediately taken away and put into some reservation that the white men do not want.

The next year the settlers want this reservation and the government is asked to move the Indians again. If it is not done the whites are furious, and complain that they are not protected. If it is done, then resistance is made by the Indians, and then all the noble white men call for extermination, and demand that a price be set on scalps.

Between the white man and the Indian the government has not dealt with firmness, and uniformity, but has been constantly yielding to the pressure on one side or the other. Neither is satisfied, and neither knows what to expect.

There can be but one policy in dealing with the Indians. Unless the president's policy can entirely prevent the pursuit of other policies by private parties it is no policy at all. The policy of the traders is to get every dollar of profit that is possible, out of the Indian. It makes utterly no difference what means are employed. Whenever there is a chance for profit, there these vultures are gathered together.

The Indian, though not an inventive genius is not above availing himself of the weapons of the pale face. And he knows the difference between the Belgian musket and a Sharp's rifle.

The government officers seem astonished that Captain Jack's command is so well armed. It is the most natural thing in the world, and it is a thing that the government officers might have prevented. Every year boat load after boat load of goods for bartering purposes leaves St. Louis and goes up the Missouri river. What are these goods? Beads, blankets and toys? Well, yes to some extent, but besides these there are Springfield rifles Spencer carbines, cavalry revolvers, and no end to ammunition.

If our merchants sell arms to the French while the latter are engaged in fighting the Germans there is a great hue and cry about the violation of the neutrality laws, but no one considers it worth his while to protest against the supply of weapons of war to Indians who will either themselves use them against us, or sell them to other Indians who will. To sell the Indian fire water is bad enough, but to sell him fire arms is a hundred times worse. If the government is in earnest, if it means to protect the white man without exterminating the red man, let it protect the Indian in the possession of his reservations and keep him unarmed except with the bow and arrows of his ancestors. If Hiawatha could slaughter the fleet red deer, and the hairy buffalo with these primitive weapons, Captain Jack needs no better. And the present style of Indian has the most reckless way of pointing guns right at people, a practice which is utterly indefensible, and is in direct violation of the statutes of the state of New York if not of other states.

It is reported that one of the members of our Common Council was present. An adjournment of the fight was held the same evening near the "Narrows," and the police were sent over there, but the affair finally broke up in the same manner as in the afternoon.

The strike of the New York coopers will seriously affect the Portland barrel manufacturers. There are about a dozen firms in the business at Portland and as many more throughout the State. From 1000 to 1200 barrels are made and shipped per week, and the weekly pay roll amounts to over $1600. The Maine barrels constitute what are called whitewoods, being made of spruce or poplar, while the New York barrels are made of oak and cypress. The principle market is in New York, and Portland barrels are sold there for $1 80, while the New barrels bring $2 25. These are shipped thither in the Maine Steamship Company's boats, and a large number go by sailing vessels. This strike was instigated, it is said, by the union in Portland, and is aimed against those persons sending barrels to New York not made by union men. It is understood that union made barrels will be taken. The main object of the movement is undoubtedly to induce the non-union men in Portland, Bath, Bangor, and other places to join the society—and this will probably be the result.

I do not make little of the pleasures of life, but I condemn the regret at losing them. Let us bow to the storm as the flowers do beneath the rain, but let us not prostrate ourselves, but straighten up after it is over, refreshed, washed, stronger. Another thing that I wish to condemn is the mourning and repining of the old, of those who are finishing life, who find fault with everything that is, and praise everything that was. They live in the past and do not see that glorious future so near them. It is one of the reasons why I want to be cut off in my health and strength, when I think that I may come to that, when I can see nothing in life but its past, when everything loses its pleasure; when I shall hate little children because they make a noise. I believe, as the Roman Catholics do, in a purgatory, because I have seen it; for where is it if not in that household where sits the man who is wasted and gone, and who is a burden to all? You look away from him when you would think of him. He is withered; he is not ripened and full of sweetness and gentleness and loving kindness. What more wretched than to see a man on the verge of this life, hanging to the body, grasping with his gaunt and trembling hands at the things of this life, blind to the celestial glories of immortality just before him?—[Henry Ward Beecher.

What is Your Life Worth?

No estimate can be made of the value of a human life. It is beyond appraisement. The wealth of the world weighed with it would kick the beam. Yet how many precious lives are thrown away unwittingly. The laws of health are simple enough, but they are not generally understood, and even when understood are too often disregarded. At this season, for example, when it is expedient that the physical system should be toned, regulated and purified to enable it to endure without injury the intense heats of summer, how many thousands, even of the feeble and delicate, neglect to fortify themselves in this way against a known danger. Who is so ignorant as not to be aware that Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, if when taken regularly, are a sure protection against intermittents, remittents, and all epidemics engendered by the vapor-laden atmosphere of spring? Who does not know that the same wholesome tonic and alterative, if taken at proper intervals throughout the summer, will prevent billious attacks, headache, colic, nervous debility, indigestion, and all the long catalogue of ills to which heat and malaria give rise. Whoever wants a clean bill of health for the most enervating season of the year, should take time by the forelock and commence a course of this unequaled vegetable invigorant now.

CONSUMPTION CAN BE CURED.

SCHENCK'S PULMONIC SYRUP,
SCHENCK'S SEAWEED TONIC,
SCHENCK'S MANDRAKE PILLS,

Are the only medicines that will cure Pulmonary Consumption.

Sometimes medicines that will stop a cough will often occasion the death of the patient. It locks up the liver, stops the circulation of the blood; hemorrhage follows, and in fact, clogging the action of the urinary organs that caused the cough.

Liver complaint and dyspepsia are the causes of two-thirds of the cases of consumption. Many are now complaining with a dull pain in the side, the bowels sometimes costive and sometimes too loose, tongue coated, pain in the shoulder blade, feeling sometimes very restless, and other times drowsy; the food that is taken lies heavily on the stomach, accompanied by acidity and belching of wind. These symptoms usually originate from a disordered condition of the stomach or a torpid liver. Persons so affected, if they take one or two heavy colds, and if the cough in these cases be suddenly stopped, the lungs, liver and stomach clog, and remain torpid and inactive, and before the patient is aware of his situation, the lungs are a mass of sores, and ulcerated, and death is the inevitable result.

Schenck's Pulmonic Syrup is an expectorant which does not contain any opium, nor anything calculated to check a cough suddenly.

Schenck's Seaweed Tonic dissolves the food, mixes with the gastric juice of the stomach, digests easily, nourishes the system, and creates a healthy circulation of the blood. When the bowels are costive, skin sallow, and the patient is of a billious habit, Schenck's Mandrake Pills are required.

These medicines are prepared by Dr. J. H. SCHENCK & SON, Northeast corner of Sixth and Arch streets, Philadelphia, Penn., and for sale by GEO. C. GOODWIN & CO., 38 Hanover street, Boston, and John F. Henry, 8 College place, New York, Wholesale Agents.

For sale by Druggists generally.

Newport Daily News.

FRIDAY, MAY, 9, 1873.

GENERAL NEWS.

FOREIGN INTELLIGENCE.

VIENNA, May 8.—The reports of the prevalence of cholera along the Danube are denied. Information received here from different points on the river, states that the country is free from the epidemic.

FROM WASHINGTON.

WASHINGTON, D. C., May 8.—Captain Selfridge, of the United States Navy, arrived at the Navy Department and reported in person to the Secretary of the Navy this morning the successful completion of the second survey of what is known as the Napipi route, on the Isthmus of Darien, for a ship canal to connect at Lunde with the Pacific.

There has been much stir today at the War department, the headquarters of the army and the Attorney-General's today, over the situation in Louisiana. About ten days ago an intimation came from General Emory that Governor Kellogg was claiming quite openly that he had the full sanction of the President in all he was doing, and virtually had the whole military force of the United States, then in Louisiana, at his back. These intimations led at the time to more specific instructions to General Emory, and informing him that Governor Kellogg could only receive military aid through a regular call on the President.

There are several regiments of infantry and a regiment of cavalry in the South stationed in such proximity to New Orleans that should a formidable outbreak occur necessitating the presence of more troops than General Emory has now conveniently located, their services could be had in a few hours.

General Sherman telegraphed directly to Governor Kellogg informing him that the President was opposed to an aggressive policy and that the United States forces were only to be used in case of great emergency. In the meantime General Emory has been given discretion to act as he may deem necessary in case of actual hostilities being directed against the State government. He will not, under these instructions, allow the State authority to be forcibly overthrown.

NEW YORK CITY.

NEW YORK, May 8.—All the Courts, United States, State, and Municipal, have adjourned today out of respect to the memory of Chief Justice Chase. On Saturday, the remains will be taken to Washington, and on Monday services will be performed there, after which the deceased will be entombed at Oak Hill Cemetery, Georgetown Heights. The body will untimataly be buried at the Chase homestead in Ohio.

A number of prominent gentlemen have been invited to attend as pall bearers. The following, it is believed, have accepted: Hamilton Fish, General Sherman, Charles O'Connor, Wm. M. Evarts, Gideon Wells, Wm. Cullen Bryant, Caleb Cushing, Gen. McDowell, George L. Smith, Hiram Barney and John J. Cisco.

STOKES.

Stokes will be brought before the general term of the Superior Court, Monday, for resentence. Don Passos, counsel for Stokes, today, received an anonymous letter hinting that his life was in danger if he continues his efforts to release Stokes.

BLEAKLEY.

The jury in the Bleakley case came into Court after four hours absence and rendered a verdict of murder in the second degree.—The prisoner was immediately sentenced to the State prison for life. The verdict was unexpected, the general belief being that he would be acquitted on the ground of insanity.

Gen. McClellan this afternoon sent a communication to the department of docks, resigning his position as chief engineer.

MISCELLANEOUS.

DEATH OF OAKES AMES.

NORTH EASTON, May 8.—Mr. Ames died at his residence in this place at 9:33 this evening. The disease was apoplexy, complicated with pneumonia. He died easily, passing away without a struggle in the presence of his family. The funeral will take place at his late residence on Sunday, the 11th instant. A train will leave the Old Colony depot, Boston, giving friends an opportunity to attend the funeral and return to Boston after the services. Mr. Ames was sixty-nine years, three months and eighteen days old at the time of his death.

NEW ORLEANS, La., May 8.—The latest advices from St. Martinsville say that there was no fight there last night, and there is now very little probability of one taking place. Gen. De Blance thought at one time last night that the Metropolitans meant to fall back, but was mistaken. Reinforcements for the Metropolitans are coming in from below. Citizens, two hundred strong, are still in arms at St. Martinsville, and camped about two miles from the town.—Two of the Metropolitans have been wounded. One citizen has been wounded.

The Mayor of St. Martinsville is under arrest for treason.

TAUNTON, Mass., May 8.—Gardner Jones's insurance amounted to $28,800.—King's insurance was $1000, Marvel's insurance was $5060, S. Ward & Co., lost $20,000 partially insured, J. French had $1000 insurance, Abraham Wilbour had $3000.

ACCIDENT ON THE BOSTON AND PROVIDENCE RAILROAD.

PROVIDENCE, May 8.—On the Sharon grade two cars became detached from the freight train which leaves Boston a little before two o'clock, and began running down the grade, back toward this city, while the two o'clock express train was waiting in Canton. The engineer discovered these two cars coming rapidly toward his train, and on the same track. The engineer jumped in his cab and commenced backing his train, but before he had passed the station the runaway cars came crashing upon the engine, tearing off all the head gear, including cow catcher and rail. The passenger cars received no injury, though they had been mostly deserted in a panic caused by some person who had given an alarm.

In the freight cars were four horses, one of whom was killed instantly, and two others will have to be killed. The engineer whose promptness arrested a worse accident was Mr. John Philbrook.

The statements that Senator Sumner is in a critical condition is without foundation. His physicians state that his condition is now better than it was a year since, and he is in a fair way, for the first time in several years, of complete recovery from the difficulty under which he has labored. He is now able to walk several squares daily, and is engaged each day in driving about the city and making calls, and is so much improved that a trip to Europe, this summer is not considered necessary.

The first anniversary of the marriage of Lord Bute was celebrated in high feather at Rothesay recently. On the arrival of the wedded pair in the island after their marriage, it will be remembered that the noble pair were invalided, and could not accept of any public entertainment on that occasion; it was, therefore, resolved to celebrate the anniversary of their nuptials in this manner. A large company assembled, and the spacious hall of the Bute Hotel was tastefully decorated with flags and evergreens, and at one end a beautiful transparency of the Bute and Howard arms presented a very fine apparance.

For Sale.

THE Subscriber wishes to sell his sloop boat known as the Jamestown ferry-boat, in good order. Any one wishing to buy a boat will do well by calling on WILLIAM H. KNOWLES,

Conanicut Park.

PERSONS desiring Cottage Lots at this new watering place, will do well to call on the agent at as early a day as possible. In view of the improvements in progress, prices will very soon be advanced. Those who are asking themselves as to the probabilities of realizing a profit on a real estate investment at this point, should consider the following facts:

The company owning the property is made up of men of enterprise, who will expend all the money that is necessary to make the Park one of the most attractive places in the country. They are already building one of the largest and most substantial wharves in the bay, and it will be ready in a few weeks, when all the Providence and Newport steamers will make a landing. The hotel will be in readiness for guests on or before the first of July. Eight or ten cottages will be erected in time for occupancy the present season. Several miles of streets are already made, and a large number of workmen are engaged in building others. The engineers have laid out the property in good taste, dividing the land into Parks and drives, one of the main avenues extending along the shore more than three miles, making one of the finest drives in the country. The lots on Summit and other avenues have a view of the opposite shores, from Narragansett Pier to Wickford, Greenwich, Rocky Point, Bristol, Portsmouth and Newport, affording a prospect of some fifty miles extent along the water's edge, and enabling the spectator to look into eleven different townships without changing his position. Those and other advantages afford a guaranty of the success of the enterprise especially as the first purchasers buy at so small a price. Lots have already been sold to parties in New York, Boston, Philadelphia, Providence, Taunton, Bridgewater, &c.

The plat may be seen at the office of the undersigned at No. 13 Church Street.

FRIDAY, MAY 9, 1873.

A gentleman in this city, says the St. Louis Democrat, has invented a little machine for removing the shells from chestnuts and peanuts. It is made to fit over the nose; the breath passing from the nostrils furnishes the motive power; the nuts are dropped in the hopper on top, and the meat or unshelled nut is dropped into the mouth of the eater below. It is noiseless in its working, and gentlemen or ladies who have been debarred from attending Theodore Thomas's concerts, or church, because they were not allowed to "crunch" nuts, can now experience a new pleasure.

AMERICAN AND FOREIGN PATENT

R H EDDY

SOLICITOR OF PATENTS,

For Inventions, Trade Marks, or Designs,

No. 76 State St., opp. Kilby St. Boston

AFTER an extensive practice of upwards of twenty years, continues to secure patents in the United States; also in Great Britain, France and other foreign countries. Caveats, Specifications, Assignments, and all papers for Patents, executed on reasonable terms, with dispatch. Researches made to determine the validity and utility of Patents of Inventions, and legal and other advice rendered in all matters touching the same. Copies of the claims of any patent furnished, by remitting one dollar. Assignments recorded in Washington.

No Agency in the United States possesses superior facilities for obtaining Patents or ascertaining the patentability of inventions.

All necessity of a journey to Washington to procure a Patent, and the usual great delay there, are here saved inventors.

TESTIMONIALS.

"I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse.
CHARLES MASON, Commissioner of Patents."

"I have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they cannot employ a man more competent and trustworthy and more capable of putting their applications in a form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office.
EDMUND BURKE,
Late Commissioner of Patents."

"MR. R. H. EDDY has made for me over THIRTY applications for Patents, having been successful in almost every case. Such unmistakable proof of great talent and ability on his part, leads me to recommend ALL inventors to apply to him to procure their Patents, as they may be sure of having the most faithful attention bestowed on their cases, and at very reasonable charges.

BLOOD PURIFIER

is unequaled by any known remedy. It will eradicate, extirpate and thoroughly destroy all poisonous substances in the Blood and will effectually dispel all predisposition to billious derangement.

Is there want of action in your Liver & Spleen? Unless relieved at once, the blood becomes impure by deleterious secretions, producing scrofulous or skin diseases, Blotches, Felons, Pustules, Canker, Pimples, &c. &c.

Have you a Dyspeptic Stomach? Unless digestion is promptly aided the system is debilitated with poverty of the Blood, Dropsical tendency, general Weakness and Inertia.

Have you weakness of the Intestines? You are in danger of Chronic Diarrhoea or Inflammation of the Bowels.

Have you weakness of the Uterine or Urinary Organs? You are exposed to suffering in its most aggravated form.

Are you dejected, drowsy, dull, sluggish or depressed in spirits, with head ache, back ache, coated tongue and bad tasting mouth?

For a certain remedy for all of these diseases, weaknesses and troubles; for cleansing and purifying the vitiated blood and imparting vigor to all the vital forces; for building up and restoring the weakened constitution USE

New York Patent Carpet Renovating Co.

ARE now ready to receive orders at their office. Carpets cleaned and restored to their original beauty and brightness, without removing the same from the floor.

CERTAIN AND INFALLIBLE.

The process by which this extraordinary result is obtained is one of the most important revolutions in DOMESTIC ECONOMY.

However soiled your Brussels, Velvets, Wilton, Axminster, Moquet, Aubusson, and other carpets or Rags may be; be they covered with Dust, Dirt, Grease, or Coal Smoke, with this process, the same can be made clean and bright and apparently as new as when delivered from the hands of the manufacturer.

THIS GREAT DESIDERATUM

Is obtained without removing the carpet from the floor, or requiring the removal of furniture from the room, a convenience which every Housekeeper will appreciate. The old system of Carpet beating and shaking will free a carpet of loose dirt only, the dirt which has hardened the wool and defaced the colors as well as grease stains and coal smoke will not be removed

WE CAN POSITIVELY STATE,

No matter how old and soiled a carpet may be as long as the nap is not injured, the same can be restored to its original beauty.

Circulars and references of the many who have tested our process, can be had at the office No. 135 Thames Street, Newport.
